

Payment systems process transactions between banks and merchant accounts.
Fraud detection monitors payment systems for suspicious activity.